Treasurer's Report – Loren reports that we have $637.62

Old Business – The Spillway R/C Club was well represented at the annual National Public Lands Day that was held at the Spillway this year. Skip

This year we performed 4½ events. (I'll explain the ½ in a second.) The events this year were spot landings, slow fly across the field, climb-and-glide and the 1-minute flight. Then there was the limbo. Note to future fun flies: don't use construction marker tape for the limbo, it doesn't break easily. Mark Delcambre learned the hard way when on the second pass of the limbo his wheel of his Corsair caught the tape and went nose down. The event was optional after that.

Other New News – Skip Jacobs order the club new FAA Low Flying Aircraft signs for the field. Hopefully this will get people to stop when crossing the road next to the field.

The Spillway R/C Club is now on Google Earth. Google Earth is a satellite viewer program of earth. The spillway club is quite clear in the program and you can even see the cars at the field.

At the October meeting, the club voted in new members George Ware and Mark Neal.

For Model of the Month, Nathan brought in his Stearman nearly finished. It is covered in the traditional black and red scheme and he had the cowl and wheel pants painted. It should be in the air soon.
